

Position: Legal Research Intern

6 months with stipend | Remote | 15 hours/week

Justice Adda is a legal design organization committed to democratizing access to information about human rights and justice issues. We seek to bridge the gap between academic discourse and practical solutions, making the justice system more accessible for everyone and diversifying the discourse around the Law.

Role Overview:

We are looking for an advanced LLB or LLM student to work on an upcoming Justice Adda Project. This is a constitutional law project where we will be working on large database of landmark Supreme Court judgments that have shaped public discourse in the last decade. It is a 6-month role running from July to December 2024. We seek a commitment of 15 hours/week. Work will be entirely remote.

This is an exciting role for those with an interest in Constitutional Law, access to justice, legal design and thinking creatively about the law.

Responsibilities will include:

- Researching and organising landmark Supreme Court rulings
- Assisting in preparing case database and case summaries
- Assisting in organisation of project documents and administrative support

Requirements:

- A bachelor's degree in law or current enrolment in 4th/5th year of the 5-year LLB or 2nd/3rd year of the 3-year LLB or an LLM program
- Demonstrated background of Constitutional Law
- Familiarity with landmark Supreme Court judgments
- Familiarity with research databases
- Ability to read quickly and effectively through voluminous judgments.

Remuneration:

INR 7,500/month

How to apply:

- Please send your CV, a short cover letter with your views on any recent Supreme Court ruling and a writing sample (this can be a blog, term paper or a published piece) on any topic of constitutional law to aparna.justiceadda@gmail.com.
- Last date to apply is 23rd June 2024.

Justice Adda is committed to creating a diverse and inclusive workplace. We encourage candidates from diverse backgrounds to apply. We value the unique perspectives and contributions of each team member and encourage an environment where everyone feels supported and empowered. This approach highlights the organization's commitment to equitable access, professional development, and project ownership.